

Production Installation and Construction - Willing to train for this role

Great job for those who enjoy working with a fun team. Are you a person who likes a variety of jobs with great support from the company? Do you like working with your hands and putting things together? Enjoy working both inside and outside? Do you like making, fixing and building things?

If so, here is an opportunity to make money and have fun while doing it at FASTSIGNS® Parker/Castle Rock.

As a Sign Installation and Construction Tech you'll play an important role in getting the finished sign or graphic in place so everyone can see it - in the ground, on a wall, on a vehicle or hanging from a ceiling. You'll use a variety of tools to assemble, erect and hang items, both inside and out. In fact, most of your days will be inspecting install locations, installing on exterior building walls, interior offices and many other environments. No job is the same and this keeps it so interesting.

FASTSIGNS is a well-known and respected global brand. We help businesses and organizations visually communicate. Virtually every business in every industry needs and uses signs, so you will get to see your work around town. You'll be in a fast-paced environment with a collaborative and supportive team. Every day is challenging and different, and you'll have the opportunity to continue to hone your skills by accessing a wide range of hands-on, in-person and online training programs.

Bring your hands-on mechanical, electrical and construction skills on board and join an established brand? When you work at our FASTSIGNS location, you are working for a locally-owned business with Monday through Friday business hours.
